

NEW GOODS

FOR

The New Year!

We anticipated the demand for—

New, Fresh Goods

Immediately following THE HOLIDAYS, consequently we have just opened up a number of—

Right New Things

That the people are clamoring for.

Our Embroideries and Laces

Are unusually attractive. We are showing some exquisite things in—

Plain and Embroidered Linens,

Suitable for—

Ladies' Shirt Waists,
Shirt Waist Suits,
Children's Dresses and Gentlemen's Shirts.

Percalines,

Especially adapted for—

Shirt Waists and
Gentlemen's Shirts.

Quite a variety of—

India Linens and Persian Lawns.

Special values in

White Linen Lawns,

From 25c up to $1.50 per yard.

Ours is a most remarkable line of—

Muslin Underwear.

We have an unusually large assortment of OUR NOTED

Red Seal Zephyr Gingham

That we have handled for years, and KNOW WILL NOT FADE.

We have just received a large shipment of—

China Matting.

In fact, we have a very attractive line of—

Floor Coverings.

Linoleums,
Carpet,
Art Squares,
Rugs, &c.

Our boast is of FRESH, NEW STOCK—the RIGHT KIND AT RIGHT PRICES.

COME AND SEE.

TO ALL WHO OWE US,

Either by Note or Account, made previous to January 1st, 1905, we must insist upon settling at once. We have to meet our obligations, and in order to do it we must insist upon you meeting yours. We are dependent, to a large extent, upon each other. Please oblige us in this matter.

Come and settle all old scores, and let us start the new year straight.

Just a word more. REMEMBER OUR—

Groceries,
And Farm Supplies.

Come or write us your orders.

OSBORNE & PEARSON.

Local News.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 1, 1905.

THE COTTON MARKET.

Good Middling—7.
Strict Middling—6.
Middling—5.

Miss Eunice Hill has gone to Summerville to visit friends.

Dr. T. O. Kirkpatrick, of Lowndesville, spent Sunday in the city.

Misses Julia and Sue Maxwell, of Walhalla, spent Saturday in the city.

Mrs. Geo. E. Prince is visiting relatives at Lander College in Greenwood.

Capt. J. Mims Sullivan, of Greenville, spent last Sunday in Anderson.

There is a good deal of moving about among the farm laborers and tenants.

Next Monday is Saturday. A large crowd will no doubt visit the city that day.

H. E. Todd, of this city, spent a few days last week at Newberry, his old home.

Mrs. Percy Waters has returned from a visit to relatives in Scranton, Penn.

Nearly every other person you meet now is suffering with a severe cold or gripe.

J. T. Moore, of Ninety Six, has been spending a few days in the city visiting friends.

Rev. J. E. West will preach at Welcoming Church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The city tax books open today, and you can pay your city taxes any time this month.

W. C. Latimer, Esq., who is now practicing law in Atlanta, was in the city Sunday.

The next festival is that of St. Valentine, February 14, when, it is said, the birds mate.

Wells, ponds and water courses still need much more rain to raise them to usual winter levels.

J. F. Burton, of Lenoir, Ga., has been in the city on a visit to his brother, J. C. Burton.

J. T. Johnson, of Lowndesville, spent a few days in the city last week as the guest of D. L. Barnes.

John T. Moore, of Ninety-Six, has been spending several days with the family of Prof. E. C. McCants.

Mrs. Sallie Crayton and Mrs. J. B. Cooley have been spending several days in Greenville visiting relatives.

Hon. Geo. B. Timmerman, solicitor of the fifth circuit, has been spending several days in the city with friends.

The latest "fad" among the young girls is the collecting of boys handkerchiefs and making a "friendship shirtwaist."

Mrs. R. Bolin Allen, of Lowndesville, has been spending a few days in the city visiting Misses Ida and Lois Watson.

If any subscriber fails to get his paper regularly and promptly, he will come a favor by letting it be known at the office.

W. G. Johnson and wife, of Chester, have been spending a few days in the city, their former home, visiting friends and relatives.

Although cotton keeps down the farmers are cheerful and hopeful. Many of them are anxious to start the plow for the next crop.

Ernest Poore, who holds a position with the U. S. W. C. R. E., in Augusta, has been spending a few days in Anderson visiting relatives.

Rev. O. L. Martin, of Williamston, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church in this city Sunday night in the absence of the pastor.

Ten acres in cotton at 10 cents is more money than twenty acres with cotton at 5 cents. Remember this, farmers, when planting your crop.

Mr. A. S. Bowie, president of the bank at Starr, S. C., and Mr. John Tenaley were in Hartwell Monday on business.—Hartwell (Ga.) Sun.

Chiquola Lodge, Knight of Pythias, will hold its regular convention tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. All the members are urged to attend.

The rural mail carriers have a hard time when the blizzards come. Taking one consideration with another, their life is not an altogether happy one.

Lonie Spencer Daniel, monologist and dialect reader, will be at the Belton High School hall next Friday evening as one of the lyceum attractions.

Misses Estha Sifton and Mattie Tripp, two of Anderson county's popular and pretty young ladies, visited in town on last Saturday.—Easley Progress.

Some of our merchants are offering rare bargains in winter goods. Read the advertisements carefully in The Intelligencer and you will know where to get them.

If those subscribers who have not paid us know how badly we need a dollar owing to us, we believe that a great many of them would come up and pay us.

If the demand for wood increases for the next twenty years as it has for the last, people out in the country will burn coal, corn stalks, cob, or anything except wood.

Rev. J. G. Law, of Walhalla, spent last Sunday in Anderson, and in the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. E. James, preached in the Central Presbyterian Church.

Married, on Sunday, January 29, 1905, at the home of H. Brenzale, near Williamston, by Rev. J. T. Mann, Mr. L. D. Stringer and Miss Mary Vaden, both of Anderson County.

The Cheatham correspondent of the Greenwood News writes: "Della Keys, quite a charming young lady from Anderson, was the guest of Miss Rippey Ashmore a few days recently."

A poem was turned to death on the plantation of John T. Green, near Belton, last Saturday afternoon. The cause was the usual one—children left in the house alone and playing with fire.

The Katoen Produce Co., which is just in its infancy, has been selected as one of the largest business enterprises in this section. They shipped 15,000 pounds of produce to Ligon & Ledbetter at Anderson, one day last week.

William Williams, of Belton, and his wife, Mary, were in the city last week.

A party was given at the home of Mrs. J. G. Law, of Walhalla, on Sunday.

The Anderson Fair Association has been called for next Tuesday to make the initial preparations for this year's fair. The fair last fall was a success, and it is the purpose of the directors to make this year's fair larger and more comprehensive in every way. A number of fine horses are now being trained at the grounds, and racing will be a prominent feature.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week this section experienced the coldest weather of the season. The cold kept the plumb line hanging straight and the water pipes frozen.

Wednesday and Thursday mornings various thermometers registered from 8 to 10 degrees above zero, which is about the lowest the mercury has reached here since Feb. 13, 1899.

The weather was bitter cold throughout the whole country, and much damage was done to the oranges and early vegetables in Florida.

The Columbia State of last Friday says: "A delegation of representative citizens from Abbeville county appeared before the judiciary committee of the house yesterday and urged the passage of a bill to close Anderson county a certain part of Abbeville. It is said that the county line runs within a quarter of a mile of the graded school at Horse Path, and the people on the Abbeville side who want to send their children to Horse Path school do not do so as they are in another district. It is probable that this bill will be fought by the Abbeville county people as well as by those who are against it."—The Statesman of Calhoun county.

Invitations have been issued to the marriage of Miss Lois Holland, of this city and A. B. Wharton, of Iva. The ceremony will take place next Wednesday, the 8th inst., at the home of Miss Holland's mother on South Main street.

Married, on Thursday, January 28th, 1905, at a residence of the bride's parents, at Simpsonville, S. C., by Rev. D. S. Spearman, Mr. J. H. Wyatt, of Brushy Creek, Anderson County, S. C., and Miss Ola Findley, of Simpsonville, S. C.

The postoffice department at Washington has refused the request of the number of commerce to put a mail clock on the afternoon train between Anderson and Greenville. The matter will probably be brought up again and urged upon the department.

A civil service examination was held in this city Saturday morning. The position of clerk and carrier. There were 20 applicants, six of whom were negroes. These positions pay well and offer a fine chance for young men to work up to splendid jobs in the government service.

No weather prophet can tell the people whether this is to be a wet or dry year. Many are making forecasts but none of them know what the future will bring forth. Nature will proceed along her usual lines and give the country the usual variety of weather.

Mrs. Theresa H. Strickland, of Anderson, is in Edgfield on a visit to her niece, Mrs. J. B. Haltiwanger. Mrs. Strickland is a literary woman of great learning, a singer of fine voice, and high musical attainment, and a conversationalist of unbounded readiness and brilliancy.—Edgfield Chronicle.

Mr. John Lee, of Fair Play, S. C., spent a few days this week with his nephew, W. L. Skelton. He is 78 years old, is well preserved and bids fair to live a long time, although he was wounded several times during the war, where he served as lieutenant colonel.—Elberton (Ga.) Star.

Charlie Bryant and Sam Newell, the negroes charged with burning the barn of M. J. McGee in Varnum township, were given a preliminary hearing before Magistrate B. F. Wilson last week. Newell was released for want of evidence, but Bryant's case was sent up to the higher court for trial.

Last Saturday afternoon there was a head-on collision between two freight trains in the yard limits at Varnum. Both engines were greatly damaged, with one box car turned upside down. Both engineers and their firemen jumped from their engines just before the crash, thereby saving themselves in all probability from death.

Clemson College has been awarded two medals by the officials of the St. Louis Exposition. The exhibits from the mechanical and textile departments won a gold medal for their excellence, and a bronze medal was carried off by the agricultural exhibit, in which was included Prof. Newman's method of preserving sweet potatoes.

Mr. Elihu Pickens, of the upper portion of Anderson county, recently lost two fine mares from a disease similar to glanders. Other of his horses attacked by the same disease, were examined by the State Veterinarian, who pronounced it "strangles," which though, not so fatal as glanders, is equally as contagious.—Easley Progress.

J. E. Gause died last Sunday morning at his home at Orrville, aged 24 years. He was an employee of the Orr cotton mill and was sick only a short time. He leaves a wife and two infant children, one of which was born a few hours before his death. On Sunday afternoon the remains were laid to rest in Silver Brook cemetery.

Butler White Oscar Lewis and Walter Edwards, three young white men who were arrested several days ago on a charge of assaulting the changing guards near the Riverside mill, were given a preliminary hearing last week, and were released on bond to answer the charges against them in the court of sessions which meets the second Monday of this month.

Our young friend, Guy E. Mauldin of Washington, D. C., spent Sunday and Monday in the city, his old home, staying come down on the sad mission of attending the funeral of his grandmother, whose death is noted in another column. Mr. Mauldin holds the responsible position of secretary in the office of Vice President Finley, of the Southern Railway, and is a most excellent young man.

Judge Purdy rendered a decision in Columbia Monday in the matter of a new trial in the case of M. P. Tribble against the Western Union Telegraph company. This case was tried at the last term of the Richland County court of common pleas, and Col. Tribble given damages in the sum of $1,500. The defendant company moved for a new trial, which Judge Purdy has granted on the ground that the verdict was excessive.

The Anderson Traction company has secured the services of F. A. Harris, of Birmingham, as superintendent of the street car system. He is a man of considerable experience in this kind of work. The construction of the system is progressing satisfactorily. Three cars arrived last week, and it is expected that these will be running in a few days on the lines already completed.

A meeting of the directors of the Anderson Association Fair Association has been called for next Tuesday to make the initial preparations for this year's fair. The fair last fall was a success, and it is the purpose of the directors to make this year's fair larger and more comprehensive in every way. A number of fine horses are now being trained at the grounds, and racing will be a prominent feature.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week this section experienced the coldest weather of the season. The cold kept the plumb line hanging straight and the water pipes frozen.

Local News.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 1, 1905.

THE COTTON MARKET.

Good Middling—7.
Strict Middling—6.
Middling—5.

Miss Eunice Hill has gone to Summerville to visit friends.

Dr. T. O. Kirkpatrick, of Lowndesville, spent Sunday in the city.

Misses Julia and Sue Maxwell, of Walhalla, spent Saturday in the city.

Mrs. Geo. E. Prince is visiting relatives at Lander College in Greenwood.

Capt. J. Mims Sullivan, of Greenville, spent last Sunday in Anderson.

There is a good deal of moving about among the farm laborers and tenants.

Next Monday is Saturday. A large crowd will no doubt visit the city that day.

H. E. Todd, of this city, spent a few days last week at Newberry, his old home.

Mrs. Percy Waters has returned from a visit to relatives in Scranton, Penn.

Nearly every other person you meet now is suffering with a severe cold or gripe.

J. T. Moore, of Ninety Six, has been spending a few days in the city visiting friends.

Rev. J. E. West will preach at Welcoming Church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The city tax books open today, and you can pay your city taxes any time this month.

W. C. Latimer, Esq., who is now practicing law in Atlanta, was in the city Sunday.

The next festival is that of St. Valentine, February 14, when, it is said, the birds mate.

Wells, ponds and water courses still need much more rain to raise them to usual winter levels.

J. F. Burton, of Lenoir, Ga., has been in the city on a visit to his brother, J. C. Burton.

J. T. Johnson, of Lowndesville, spent a few days in the city last week as the guest of D. L. Barnes.

John T. Moore, of Ninety-Six, has been spending several days with the family of Prof. E. C. McCants.

Mrs. Sallie Crayton and Mrs. J. B. Cooley have been spending several days in Greenville visiting relatives.

Hon. Geo. B. Timmerman, solicitor of the fifth circuit, has been spending several days in the city with friends.

The latest "fad" among the young girls is the collecting of boys handkerchiefs and making a "friendship shirtwaist."

Mrs. R. Bolin Allen, of Lowndesville, has been spending a few days in the city visiting Misses Ida and Lois Watson.

If any subscriber fails to get his paper regularly and promptly, he will come a favor by letting it be known at the office.

W. G. Johnson and wife, of Chester, have been spending a few days in the city, their former home, visiting friends and relatives.

Although cotton keeps down the farmers are cheerful and hopeful. Many of them are anxious to start the plow for the next crop.

Ernest Poore, who holds a position with the U. S. W. C. R. E., in Augusta, has been spending a few days in Anderson visiting relatives.

Rev. O. L. Martin, of Williamston, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church in this city Sunday night in the absence of the pastor.

Ten acres in cotton at 10 cents is more money than twenty acres with cotton at 5 cents. Remember this, farmers, when planting your crop.

Mr. A. S. Bowie, president of the bank at Starr, S. C., and Mr. John Tenaley were in Hartwell Monday on business.—Hartwell (Ga.) Sun.

Chiquola Lodge, Knight of Pythias, will hold its regular convention tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. All the members are urged to attend.

The rural mail carriers have a hard time when the blizzards come. Taking one consideration with another, their life is not an altogether happy one.

Lonie Spencer Daniel, monologist and dialect reader, will be at the Belton High School hall next Friday evening as one of the lyceum attractions.

Misses Estha Sifton and Mattie Tripp, two of Anderson county's popular and pretty young ladies, visited in town on last Saturday.—Easley Progress.

Some of our merchants are offering rare bargains in winter goods. Read the advertisements carefully in The Intelligencer and you will know where to get them.

If those subscribers who have not paid us know how badly we need a dollar owing to us, we believe that a great many of them would come up and pay us.

If the demand for wood increases for the next twenty years as it has for the last, people out in the country will burn coal, corn stalks, cob, or anything except wood.

Rev. J. G. Law, of Walhalla, spent last Sunday in Anderson, and in the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. E. James, preached in the Central Presbyterian Church.

Married, on Sunday, January 29, 1905, at the home of H. Brenzale, near Williamston, by Rev. J. T. Mann, Mr. L. D. Stringer and Miss Mary Vaden, both of Anderson County.

The Cheatham correspondent of the Greenwood News writes: "Della Keys, quite a charming young lady from Anderson, was the guest of Miss Rippey Ashmore a few days recently."

A poem was turned to death on the plantation of John T. Green, near Belton, last Saturday afternoon. The cause was the usual one—children left in the house alone and playing with fire.

The Katoen Produce Co., which is just in its infancy, has been selected as one of the largest business enterprises in this section. They shipped 15,000 pounds of produce to Ligon & Ledbetter at Anderson, one day last week.

William Williams, of Belton, and his wife, Mary, were in the city last week.

A party was given at the home of Mrs. J. G. Law, of Walhalla, on Sunday.

The Anderson Fair Association has been called for next Tuesday to make the initial preparations for this year's fair. The fair last fall was a success, and it is the purpose of the directors to make this year's fair larger and more comprehensive in every way. A number of fine horses are now being trained at the grounds, and racing will be a prominent feature.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week this section experienced the coldest weather of the season. The cold kept the plumb line hanging straight and the water pipes frozen.

Wednesday and Thursday mornings various thermometers registered from 8 to 10 degrees above zero, which is about the lowest the mercury has reached here since Feb. 13, 1899.

The weather was bitter cold throughout the whole country, and much damage was done to the oranges and early vegetables in Florida.

The Columbia State of last Friday says: "A delegation of representative citizens from Abbeville county appeared before the judiciary committee of the house yesterday and urged the passage of a bill to close Anderson county a certain part of Abbeville. It is said that the county line runs within a quarter of a mile of the graded school at Horse Path, and the people on the Abbeville side who want to send their children to Horse Path school do not do so as they are in another district. It is probable that this bill will be fought by the Abbeville county people as well as by those who are against it."—The Statesman of Calhoun county.

Invitations have been issued to the marriage of Miss Lois Holland, of this city and A. B. Wharton, of Iva. The ceremony will take place next Wednesday, the 8th inst., at the home of Miss Holland's mother on South Main street.

Married, on Thursday, January 28th, 1905, at a residence of the bride's parents, at Simpsonville, S. C., by Rev. D. S. Spearman, Mr. J. H. Wyatt, of Brushy Creek, Anderson County, S. C., and Miss Ola Findley, of Simpsonville, S. C.

The postoffice department at Washington has refused the request of the number of commerce to put a mail clock on the afternoon train between Anderson and Greenville. The matter will probably be brought up again and urged upon the department.

A civil service examination was held in this city Saturday morning. The position of clerk and carrier. There were 20 applicants, six of whom were negroes. These positions pay well and offer a fine chance for young men to work up to splendid jobs in the government service.

No weather prophet can tell the people whether this is to be a wet or dry year. Many are making forecasts but none of them know what the future will bring forth. Nature will proceed along her usual lines and give the country the usual variety of weather.

Mrs. Theresa H. Strickland, of Anderson, is in Edgfield on a visit to her niece, Mrs. J. B. Haltiwanger. Mrs. Strickland is a literary woman of great learning, a singer of fine voice, and high musical attainment, and a conversationalist of unbounded readiness and brilliancy.—Edgfield Chronicle.

Mr. John Lee, of Fair Play, S. C., spent a few days this week with his nephew, W. L. Skelton. He is 78 years old, is well preserved and bids fair to live a long time, although he was wounded several times during the war, where he served as lieutenant colonel.—Elberton (Ga.) Star.

Charlie Bryant and Sam Newell, the negroes charged with burning the barn of M. J. McGee in Varnum township, were given a preliminary hearing before Magistrate B. F. Wilson last week. Newell was released for want of evidence, but Bryant's case was sent up to the higher court for trial.

Last Saturday afternoon there was a head-on collision between two freight trains in the yard limits at Varnum. Both engines were greatly damaged, with one box car turned upside down. Both engineers and their firemen jumped from their engines just before the crash, thereby saving themselves in all probability from death.

Clemson College has been awarded two medals by the officials of the St. Louis Exposition. The exhibits from the mechanical and textile departments won a gold medal for their excellence, and a bronze medal was carried off by the agricultural exhibit, in which was included Prof. Newman's method of preserving sweet potatoes.

Mr. Elihu Pickens, of the upper portion of Anderson county, recently lost two fine mares from a disease similar to glanders. Other of his horses attacked by the same disease, were examined by the State Veterinarian, who pronounced it "strangles," which though, not so fatal as glanders, is equally as contagious.—Easley Progress.

J. E. Gause died last Sunday morning at his home at Orrville, aged 24 years. He was an employee of the Orr cotton mill and was sick only a short time. He leaves a wife and two infant children, one of which was born a few hours before his death. On Sunday afternoon the remains were laid to rest in Silver Brook cemetery.

Butler White Oscar Lewis and Walter Edwards, three young white men who were arrested several days ago on a charge of assaulting the changing guards near the Riverside mill, were given a preliminary hearing last week, and were released on bond to answer the charges against them in the court of sessions which meets the second Monday of this month.

Our young friend, Guy E. Mauldin of Washington, D. C., spent Sunday and Monday in the city, his old home, staying come down on the sad mission of attending the funeral of his grandmother, whose death is noted in another column. Mr. Mauldin holds the responsible position of secretary in the office of Vice President Finley, of the Southern Railway, and is a most excellent young man.

Judge Purdy rendered a decision in Columbia Monday in the matter of a new trial in the case of M. P. Tribble against the Western Union Telegraph company. This case was tried at the last term of the Richland County court of common pleas, and Col. Tribble given damages in the sum of $1,500. The defendant company moved for a new trial, which Judge Purdy has granted on the ground that the verdict was excessive.

The Anderson Traction company has secured the services of F. A. Harris, of Birmingham, as superintendent of the street car system. He is a man of considerable experience in this kind of work. The construction of the system is progressing satisfactorily. Three cars arrived last week, and it is expected that these will be running in a few days on the lines already completed.

A meeting of the directors of the Anderson Association Fair Association has been called for next Tuesday to make the initial preparations for this year's fair. The fair last fall was a success, and it is the purpose of the directors to make this year's fair larger and more comprehensive in every way. A number of fine horses are now being trained at the grounds, and racing will be a prominent feature.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week this section experienced the coldest weather of the season. The cold kept the plumb line hanging straight and the water pipes frozen.

Local News.

WEDNESDAY, FEB.